Council raise concerns over homeless bus

Trevor Bevins

Reporter | trevorbevins@gmail.com

WEYMOUTH'S Bus Shelter project could be in danger of failing at the first hurdle – after borough councillors rejected a request for the project to use its car parks.

They claimed it could result in anti-social behaviour, result in a loss of car parking, and might even lead to camping alongside the area where the bus was parked.

In a social media statement on Monday the charity behind Bus Shelter Dorset said: "We're in discussions reference the location of the bus and we will update everyone as soon as we're able to....we appreciate the concerns of Weymouth and Portland Borough Council however endeavour to work alongside them in the future."

"We are working closely with the police at this time and will continue to do so."

The project has attracted public support with a £10,000 appeal being exceeded by more than £1,000 and with local companies donating equipment and staff time and skills – among them Kitchen Craft (see page 3), Magna Housing and Damory, who donated the bus.

The idea was widely praised when it was first suggested and has led to other areas taking advice from the charity about setting up similar projects.

Weymouth and Portland Borough Council say they, too, appreciate the good intentions behind the project but have rejected a request to site the bus either at the Pavilion car park, or Preston Road beach car park.

There were concerns about setting a precedent for overnight sleeping in car parks – something which has always been banned in the borough.

The council say there are already services for rough sleepers in the town run by a range of official agencies.

The bus was planned for up to 20 people to use with a kitchen area, bathroom, and an area for consultations and advice.

Users of the service would have to sign a "contract of expectations" which, if not met, would result in them being barred from the service in future. Among the expectations was a curfew.

At the time of the launch the Shelter project said: "We believe that if people have their basic needs of sleep, food, water, warmth and safety met they will be able to work positively on achieving their goals and improving their future."

"Our aim is to break the cycle and routine of homelessness and allow rough sleepers the chance to regain their dignity and place in society by providing a much needed safe, secure and warm place to stay, where they can access the support they require to move on."

Welly's on its way

■ LOCAL RNLI lifeboat crews have helped a special Yellow Welly on its way from station to station along the coast.

The welly was brought to the TS Pelican by a crew from Lyme Regis and, in turn, was taken from the Pelican by the Weymouth inshore lifeboat and brought to the town harbour – see page 6 for full story.

Paralympic star Paul Blake collects his MBE from Buckingham Palace

RIO Paralympic champion Paul Blake described his visit to Buckingham Palace last Friday to receive his MBE as an "incredible experience".

The 27-year-old from Charlton Down won gold and silver in Brazil last year to go alongside the silver and bronze he won in London four years earlier over the 400m and 800m distances.

Paul attended the ceremony with his mother Kate and twin brother Alex where he was presented with his medal by Prince William for "services to athletics".

Describing his experience he said: "Buckingham Palace is an amazing place and the ballroom was stunning. Prince William is a really nice guy and we had a good conversation."

Arriving in his brother's Mini, Paul was both amused and impressed by the way they were escorted past the tourists and the car thoroughly examined.

The following day he flew to Barcelona to compete in an invitational 400m race as preparation for the World Para Athletics Championships to be held at London's Olympic Stadium in July.

Running in a mixed field, the T38 category Blake finished second to a T13 (partial vision) athlete in a time of 55.39secs.

He said: "Considering I have had little competition this season so far, it wasn't a bad

■ PAUL Blake (centre) with twin brother Alex and mum Kate time. I started too slowly over the first 100m, but then picked it up and finished strongly.

"I think if I had started well I would have been nearer the 55 second mark."

Blake's next competition is at Loughborough later this month where he will be running a 100m to sharpen his speed, before competing in the Exeter Open Meeting over the Whitsun weekend.

Food festival returns this weekend

THE National Trust's annual Spring Tide Food Festival is back this weekend for its eighth year at Hive Beach in Burton Bradstock.

Celebrating place, produce and people, the festival showcases a wealth of culinary delights and products from local artisans and crafts people.

There will be an array of stall holders offering a range of produce, from speciality meats and artisan cheeses to handmade delicacies and cakes, as well as street food, breads, fish and locally-produced cider, wine and aperitifs.

Visitors will also discover local crafts and music and the team at Bridport Museum are providing a 'pop-up' experience while the building is closed.

Sarah Kennedy, outdoor experience ranger, and Caz Richards, volunteer project manager for the festival, said: "We will be tempting visitors to experience a range of local seasonal foods, from scrumptious savouries to the indulgent naughty but nice sweet treats."

Spring Tide is a festival for all the family with a backdrop of spectacular views along the Jurassic Coast.

Katharine Wright, Dorset Food and Drink co-ordinator, said: "It is so good to see this festival going from strength to strength and continuing to attract the top quality local food and drink producers."

Election candidates confirmed

NOMINATIONS for next month's general election closed last Thursday, with candidates across the area now confirmed.

In the West Dorset constituency (which includes Bridport, Lyme Regis, Beaminster and Dorchester) incumbent Sir Oliver Letwin (Con) will face district and county Andy Canning (Lib Dem), Kelvin Clayton (Green) and Lee Rhodes (Labour).

Sir Oliver has a majority of more than 50 per cent and polled 16,000 votes more than his nearest rival – Liberal Democrat Ros Kayes – in 2015.

In Weymouth and Portland's South Dorset constituency MP Richard Drax (Con) will be challenged by Tashi Warr (Labour), Howard Legg (Lib Dem) and Jon Orrell (Green).

Conservative Mr Drax took the South Dorset seat from Labour in 2010, only to increase his share of the vote two years ago.

After their poor showing in last month's county council elections across the county, UKIP are not fielding as many candidates in the general election as they did in 2015, with no one standing for the party in either West

Dorset or South Dorset.

The election takes place on June 8th.

Petrol station robbery – arrest made

A 23-YEAR-old Beaminster man has been arrested in connection with a reported theft from a Bridport petrol station.

Just before 11pm on Wednesday, May 3rd, officers were called to reports of a till snatch at the Esso garage in East Road. A till tray, a quantity of cash and a black A4 folder was stolen.

No one was physically injured in the incident.

The man was arrested on suspicion of burglary and has been released under investigation.

Reward offered after trailer stolen

A WEYMOUTH business is offering a reward for information about four thieves who stole a large trailer.

They used a short wheelbase Land Rover with distinctive snorkel and nudge bar to tow away the Ifor Williams built trailer from J C Vans on the Granby Industrial Estate.

It was taken during the night on Sunday May 7th, Monday May 8th. CCTV also shows a light-coloured Ford Focus and one of the thieves smoking.

The men broke through security gates to get to the trailer, which was attached to the Land Rover 90 and driven away.

A £750 reward is being offered for the return of the trailer.

WEYMOUTH firm, Kitchen Craft, has become the latest local business to support the Bus Shelter project.

The Granby Estate company has helped fit out the double-decker bus, which will hopefully be used as a night shelter in Weymouth for the borough's homeless.

The converted bus could provide up to 20 beds and would be run by a charity and staffed by volunteers.

Pauline Hicks, Office Manager at Kitchen Craft said: "Kitchen Craft are proud to have been able to assist in providing our services to The Bus Shelter.

"Timbmet, one of our suppliers, were kind enough to supply the materials, Kitchen Craft then manufactured the accommodation requirements on the bus.

"Kitchen Craft would like to wish The Bus Shelter all the best and this good cause will help towards people having somewhere to stop the night."

Kitchen Craft have received a certificate of thanks from the charity and plan to continue to support the project.

Plans to turn hotel into outdoor centre for young people

A NEW outdoor centre for youngsters could open on Portland – in a former hotel, currently used as flats.

A Hampshire-based outdoor education group has applied for planning permission to convert the Portland Roads Hotel, directly opposite the new D-Day Museum at Castle-town.

They claim it will bring jobs and extra income to the area – if approved by planners.

The New Forest Outdoor Centre, from Lyndhurst, wants to convert the building into residential accommodation for schools and young people. The area is popular for school geology and other trips.

Buses go green

FIRST Wessex launched a fleet of high-spec green buses at Weymouth Pavilion Forecourt on Friday.

The 14 buses will operate on the 2 and 10 routes, that run from the heart of Weymouth to Littlemoor and Dorchester.

The company say the vehicles represent a step up in quality, including individual leather seats, wood effect flooring and free Wi-Fi.

Each bus can carry 39 seated and 59 standing passengers with space for one wheelchair or buggy. Single buggies can also travel next to the single seats at the front of the bus.

The vehicles are also fitted with Euro 6 engines making them among the most environmentally-friendly buses on the roads.

Said First Wessex's General Manager, Simon Newport: "In recent years we have invested heavily in the Dorchester Road corridor between Weymouth, Littlemoor and Dorchester, during most of the week we have bus operating every five minutes.

"Service 10 now also operates every 10 minutes providing the best service ever for commuters to Dorchester.

"We have introduced the same vehicle type to Littlemoor as well so that we have continuity across the corridor. The new larger buses will also help with loadings along the Service 2 route when the Park & Ride starts to get busier during the summer."

As well as the new buses on the 2 and 10 routes, there was also a new open top bus on display, which will be used on a new route launching on Sunday, May 21st.

The 500 service will operate hourly along the seafront from Weymouth Pavilion to Bowleaze Cove until September. An adult return will be £4 and child return is £3, there will also be a group ticket at £15 that can be used on the 501 open top service from Weymouth Portland Bill as well.

Following the launch, outside the Weymouth Pavilion, the bus operator hosted a customer forum where passengers were able to talk to the company team about their local bus service.

Police condemn 'irresponsible' motorcyclists following collision

A GROUP of motorcyclists have been sentenced following a horrific collision on a busy dual carriageway near Dorchester, which seriously injured three people – leaving two with life-changing injuries.

Adam Wilde, 29, of Carnation Road, Swaythling in Southampton, was sentenced at Bournemouth Crown Court on Friday (May 12th), after pleading guilty to two counts of causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

He was handed a jail term of three and a half years for each offence to run concurrently and following that he will be banned from driving for five years with a requirement to take an extended retest.

The court heard that at 11.15am on Saturday, May 7th last year, Wilde was among a group of seven motorbikes and nine people who had gathered at McDonalds at West Quay in Southampton for a ride-out to Weymouth.

The court heard that the group left Southampton and made their way to Dorset. They stopped briefly on a layby off the A31 opposite The Coventry Arms before riding off again on the A31 toward Weymouth.

Wilde rode a 1300cc Suzuki Hayabusa bike and was carrying a 16-year-old teenage girl from Southampton as a pillion passenger.

Another member of the group, Daniel Lincoln who is 21-years-old, and of Caerperis View, in Fareham, rode a Kawasaki Z300cc and was also carrying a pillion passenger.

He wore a chest-mounted camera that captured the ride-out and the aftermath of the collision.

The camera footage later recovered by officers was played to the court and showed a catalogue of dangerous driving manoeuvres. Dorset Police has released this footage to highlight the dangerous riding.

Wilde, Lincoln and Nima Biniiaz – a 19-year-old man from Halls Road in Southampton, who rode a Yamaha NR250 – were seen overtaking vehicles ignoring solid white lines.

Near to Stag Gate on the A31 Wilde and Biniiaz pulled wheelies and were clocked travelling at speed in a 40mph zone.

During a brief stop at a petrol station Wilde could be heard saying he had reached speeds of 140-150mph. The 16-year-old girl was heard to say: "Don't encourage him. I'll die."

The court was told that the group left the petrol station and the trio were caught travelling along the A31 at 70mph in a 40mph zone and pulling wheelies.

As they moved onto the A35 Puddletown bypass, witnesses said they saw Biniiaz pull more wheelies and overtake vehicles at speed. Wilde was heard on camera saying "175 in fifth gear and still more to go".

Biniiaz, Wilde, Lincoln and Ellis Caplen – who rode a Yamaha R6, is 21 and of Mousehole Lane in Southampton – pulled over into a layby on the A35 as the three other bikes continued. The four were seen by witnesses to ride away from the layby at speed with some pulling wheelies.

The three other motorcyclists in the group – riding an Aprilia 125cc, Yamaha MT125cc and a Yamaha R125 – gave statements to officers about the manner of riding, the collision and the injuries sustained.

Adam Wilde's bike was seen travelling in excess of 100mph before he collided with the rear of one of the smaller motorbikes, which in turn collided with a third bike.

The teenage girl travelling on Adam Wilde's bike sustained catastrophic life-changing injuries, including two bleeds on the brain, severe damage to both of her arms, which she is still unable to use, and a large open wound on her abdomen which required major skin graft surgery.

One of the motorcycle riders suffered a broken right arm and leg and another broke his right hand.

Adam Wilde suffered a broken shoulder blade, injuries to his hand and foot and severe grazing.

Other members of the group were also sentenced today in connection with the collision after pleading guilty to offences last year.

Daniel Lincoln was handed a 12-month prison sentence suspended for 18 months, and ordered to carry out 150 hours of unpaid work for dangerous driving and committing an act likely to pervert the course of justice.

He has been banned from driving for 18 months with a requirement to take an extended retest and given a curfew order for six months.

Nima Biniiaz was handed an eight-month prison sentence suspended for 15 months, and ordered to carry out 150 hours of unpaid work for dangerous driving and driving otherwise in accordance with licence.

He has been banned from driving for two years with a requirement to take an extended retest and given a curfew order for four months.

Ellis Caplen was banned from driving for 12 months from October 10th 2016 after pleading guilty at Weymouth Magistrates' Court to driving otherwise in accordance with licence, no insurance and riding with fraudulent VRM plate.

He was also ordered to pay a £120 fine, £40 court costs and a £30 victim surcharge.

Christopher Wilde, 28 and of Millbrook Road in Southampton, was charged with driving document offences and was given six penalty points on his driving licence and ordered to pay a £100 fine, £50 court costs and £30 victim surcharge.

Senior Investigating Officer Police Sergeant Joe Pardey, of the traffic unit, said: "The actions by those involved in this case were nothing short of mindless and irresponsible. They showed a total disregard for the safety of themselves and other people using the road at that time."

"Their behaviour prior to the collision demonstrated that they believed that they were in some way clever and impressive, but the subsequent destruction they caused has changed lives forever with some of the injured suffering life-changing injuries that they may never recover from."

"It is without doubt one of the worst examples of dangerous riding that I have seen."

"I hope that the sentences given by the courts today send out a clear message that this sort of riding or driving behaviour will not be tolerated on any road, in Dorset or elsewhere."

"I would like to praise the officers involved in this complex investigation for their hard work in ensuring that Adam Wilde and others were brought to justice."

"The work carried out by Dorset Police during this investigation was commended by the judge. I would also like to thank those witnesses who assisted at the scene and provided vital evidence in the case."

"We are committed to making our roads safer and will take action against those who commit offences on them."

Yellow Welly Relay arrives in style

■ THE Yellow Welly Relay leaving Weymouth

■ THE 1st and 5th Brownies with the welly

LOCAL RNLI lifeboat crews have helped a special Yellow Welly on its way to Harwich.

The welly had been brought to the Pelican tall ship by a crew from Lyme Regis and, in turn, was taken from the Pelican by the Weymouth inshore lifeboat and brought to the town harbour.

Beach lifeguards then took it to the beach and back onto the Pelican where the 1st and 5th Brownies groups saw the welly and learnt more about the RNLI.

Finally, on Sunday, five volunteer crew members from Weymouth lifeboat, along with a couple of supporters, left Weymouth lifeboat station on push bikes for the 30 mile journey to Swanage.

Nationally May is the main fund raising month for the RNLI under the banner of MAYDAY (the distress call at sea).

The Yellow Welly Relay is part of that with the welly making its way from Portishead to Harwich stopping at all the 65 lifeboat stations on route.

Pledges of financial support are welcome via the just giving page www.justgiving.com/mayday-wellyrelay

Tennis club throws open its doors

DORCHESTER Tennis and Squash Club hosted an Open Day at their Sawmills Lane headquarters on Sunday.

Players of all abilities and those who are interested in taking up tennis, squash or racquetball, were shown around the facilities and offered the chance to chat about membership.

Coaches were on hand to give guidance and tips with refreshments on hand during the day with coffee, tea and cakes and a BBQ from midday.

Activities included a "guess the number of balls" competition with chance to win free membership until end of March 2018.

Visitors were told that the club offers internal leagues, playing for teams and social events as well as annual and other regular tournaments.

Plans for the future include resurfacing of the tennis courts.

The club has been in existence since 1949 and is run by its members, helping to keep costs down.

For more information contact the club's administrator, Adam on 01305 268103.

Police report rise in bike thefts

POLICE in Dorchester are issuing advice to members of the public after a series of bike thefts in Dorchester.

At least 10 bicycles have been reported stolen in the town in the last three weeks.

Areas where the bikes have been taken from include around the Dorchester Sports Centre in Coburg Road, the Thomas Hardy School and Dorset County Hospital.

Officers are appealing for information from the public in relation to the thefts and are also urging cyclists to make sure their bikes are left secure.

Police Community Support Officer Matt Barton, of Dorchester police, said: "We have seen a number of bike thefts in the town in recent weeks and I would ask that anyone who has any information about these contacts us immediately.

"I would also like to take this opportunity to advise cyclists to make sure they take proper security measures, such as using a good quality bike lock, to ensure their bike is not an easy target for thieves."

Officers hold regular bike marking events in the town, which are advertised on the Dorchester Neighbourhood Policing Team Facebook page.

Anyone with information about the thefts is asked to contact Dorset Police at www.dorset.police.uk, or by calling 101, quoting incident number 55170064516.

Watercress a hit in Dorchester

DUE to the mild spring, UK watercress is available a week early and residents of Dorchester reaped the benefits with a hand-delivery to the town's Tesco of the very first of the season's crop.

The Dorchester store was selected because Tesco sales in 2016 and 2017 have confirmed that residents of the county town buy more watercress per head of population than anywhere else in the UK.

The Watercress Company, a local business with watercress farms across Dorset and Hampshire, grows 100 per cent of the peppery crop stocked by Tesco nationally and has been supplying the retailer for more than 40 years. To celebrate this relationship, watercress freshly harvested from nearby Waddock Farm, less than seven miles from the store, was hand delivered to the Dorchester Tesco where customers sampled the freshest possible new UK crop.

To add theatre to the occasion, the watercress growers delivered their wares in Victorian costume and using the traditional wooden barrow that would have been a common sight in Dorset as watercress was trundled around the markets in this way, or delivered to the railway ready to be taken by steam to the fresh produce markets of Liverpool and the north.

Watercress has been produced commercially in the beds of Dorset since the 1890s. One hundred years ago around 1,000 acres of watercress beds existed and were located all over the country. Today only 150 acres remain, concentrated in Dorset and Hampshire due to the chalky downs through which rain water has filtered for thousands of years eventually flowing as natural springs into the beds where the watercress grows.

Watercress remains a vital industry in Dorset with The Watercress Company employing more than 80 people in the county.

Eddie Garlick, Manager for the Dorchester Tesco store said: "As Dorchester sells more watercress than any other Tesco store in the country it seemed only fitting to let our customers have the chance to enjoy the freshest possible watercress first, literally having harvested, washed and delivered it direct from the growers."

Tom Amery, MD of The Watercress Company added: "Watercress has been, and remains, an important produce for the area and locals obviously feel great loyalty towards it as well as appreciating its taste and health properties."

"We always look forward to the arrival of the UK season and wanted to share that excitement with the people of Dorchester and the surrounding area who clearly value this peppery superfood too."

Turning back the clock for vintage car display

VISITORS to Weymouth seafront on Sunday found an unusual car park – of classic cars.

The static display was organised by the local Transport Of Yesteryear group to raise money for the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance.

Twenty-two vehicles were on display with members selling raffle tickets with a £500 first prize put up by Chesil Beach Motors.

"The tickets are selling very well and we've had a lot of interest in the cars," said chairman Carle Grahame who has held the post for 19 years.

Amongst the cars on display were his Beardmore taxi and a Morris Minor 1000 dating from 1958 and unusual in that it is both left hand drive and open topped.

"It used to belong to someone in California who brought it back with him when he returned to this country...I was told that people used to use it for shooting from," said Mr Grahame.

The Transport of Yesteryear group was formed in 1999 by three local vintage and classic vehicle enthusiasts who met up with the idea of forming a new club in the area. On May 4th 1999 the first meeting took place at The Victoria Inn, Knights in the bottom at Chickerell, where 39 people turned up and a display of 19 vintage and classic vehicles formed a display.

Over the years the club has supported many charities, these have included - Cancer care Dorset, Clic, Riding for the Disabled, Weldmar Hospicecare Trust and the Dorset & Somerset Air Ambulance.

Their next event, on June 4th, the Hardy Classic run, will raise money for Weldmar Hospicecare and starts at Bockhampton at 10am.

On Sunday June 11th the group will be back at the Jubilee Clock on the seafront for another display and on Sunday, June 25th, will be holding the Chickerell Show Fun Day Out from 10am at School Hill, Chickerell.

Which building deserves award?

DORCHESTER Civic Society members were in South Street on Saturday asking residents to nominate recent buildings in the town for a new design award.

The Derek Beauchamp Design Award 2017 will be decided by the organisation at the end of June.

"People are very interested in seeing buildings of a good standard and we have had lots of comments," said chairman Peter Mann (pictured left with Ian Gosling).

Initially, the Award scheme will cover projects completed between January 2012 and the closing date.

The results of this first round of the award scheme will be announced at the society's AGM in September 2017.

Anyone can nominate a building or project they believe is of such a high standard of design as to merit recognition.

Nominations should include the name and contact details of the nominee; the address of the building or project; a summary description of the work done; and, before and after photos if possible.

Nominations should be sent to: The Derek Beauchamp Design Award, Dorchester Civic Society, 46 Somerleigh Road, Dorchester DT1 1TJ.

Disabled Club reach target for new bus

Dorchester Disabled Club say they are delighted to have reached the target for their new minibus.

It will mean that the new bus, costing around £55,000, has been ordered, for delivery in July.

It will replace a 17-year-old bus which has clocked up getting on for 100,000 miles and is becoming increasingly costly to maintain.

The Disabled Club are not the only users of the vehicle. It is shared with local Magna Housing Association homes for resident's trips; provides a shopping bus service for many nearby villages and is also used by the Stroke Club and Dorset Blind.

But the club say they will still need to continue fund raising in order to meet ongoing bills for maintenance.

"We send our sincere thanks to all our sponsors, donors and kind friends, without whom we wouldn't have been able to buy the new bus," said Irene Calcutt, Secretary to the organisation.

A number of fund-raising events have been held including a recent concert in Dorchester by the HMS Heron Band, which had a full house and made more than £3,000.

There has also been bingo sessions, tombolas, coffee morning, charity stalls and other events over the past couple of years.

There have also been donations from a number of organisations in the town, including Dorchester Lions, who presented a cheque for £1,000 earlier in the year.

For more information about the club call Mrs Calcutt on (01305) 263085.

Enjoy Random Acts of Wilderness next month

Trevor Bevins
Reporter | trevorbevins@gmail.com

DORSET residents are being invited to take part in 'Random Acts of Wilderness' during June.

The challenge comes from the Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT).

The charity is everyone to do something wild each day for the 30 days in June, and enjoy the physical and mental health benefits resulting from spending more time outside with nature.

It suggests this could include going for a walk next to a river, eating outside, meditating in a meadow or spending some time in your garden after work.

The 30 Days Wild event is now in its third year, with 30,000 people taking part in 2016.

Those who want to take part can get a free 30 Days Wild pack, with a wall chart and small gifts.

The impact of taking part in 30 Days Wild has been tracked by academics at the University of Derby. Their study found that people who did something 'wild' each day for a month, felt happier, healthier and more connected to nature. All sorts of activities proved to have positive effects on their participants, from feeding garden birds to walking on the beach or in a meadow.

Said DWT Communications Officer, Sally Welbourn: "We all know that by spending some time outside, perhaps after a stressful day at work or a busy day with our families, can make us feel better. So, why not record what you're doing and make a commitment to doing it every day for a month? 30 Days Wild is suitable for anyone, of any age, any fitness level and any level of interest in wildlife – it's completely free and it could make you feel happier and healthier."

Enjoy the great outdoors this weekend

A "BIG Dorset Outdoor Weekend" takes place in and around Weymouth in the coming days.

Weymouth BID will be hosting the new event on May 20th and 21st May - bringing together more than 25 outdoor activity and adventure events.

Activities will include cycling, running, walking and a selection of water based activities.

Nigel Reed, Manager of Weymouth BID, said: "This area is a great place for adventure sports and with the market expanding; this is the right time to promote the area."

"It is important that we take advantage of the growing tourism market in health and well-being and continue to promote the wide range of activities available to residents and visitors all year round."

He says he hopes that the event will inspire both local residents and visitors.

"I have known for many years the health-giving properties of taking part in an outdoor activity and it has been proven many times by experts to be one of the best ways to combat general and mental health issues - as well as being fun and a great way to meet other like-minded people," he said.

The timing of the "BIG Dorset Outdoor Weekend" has been deliberately set at the beginning of the season to encourage people to continue with their chosen activity or activities throughout the rest of the year.

If you would like to take part in any of the activities please contact the activity provider via the BID's website.

For more information and to book activities please visit www.weareweymouth.co.uk/outdoorweekend

Dementia Friends

Specsavers' optical and hearing teams become Dementia Friends

With visual impairments common among those with dementia, Specsavers is ensuring a trip to the opticians and audiologists is as comfortable as possible for them.

In the run up to Dementia Awareness Week (15-21 May), Specsavers employees nationwide are becoming Dementia Friends, an initiative run by the Alzheimer's Society. Every store now has at least one team member who is a Dementia Friend and understands the needs of customers with dementia a little more. The Specsavers Healthcall teams that carry out home visits are also becoming Dementia Friends.

Specsavers is also using Dementia Awareness Week to remind anyone over 55 to undergo regular hearing tests, as research suggests that people with untreated hearing loss are more likely to develop Alzheimer's. Hearing tests are free at Specsavers.

Dr Nigel Best, Specsavers clinical spokesperson, says: 'People with dementia may not be able to recognise or articulate the issues that many of us face when we begin to lose our sight or hearing - but the effects are the same. Being more aware of dementia is an incredibly positive development for our teams and our offering to customers.'

Those with dementia commonly experience problems with their sight and visual perception, causing them to misinterpret the world around them. Some sufferers can experience hallucinations. On top of that, research has revealed that almost half of dementia patients in care homes are wearing glasses with the wrong prescription, leading to increased isolation.

Laura Stallerbrass, store manager at Specsavers Forfar, has encouraged all her team to do Dementia Friends.

'We aim to provide a safe environment for all of our customers. I can definitely see a shift in attitudes to dementia which is lovely to experience.'

Nun on the run at Lions 10k race

THE 10km start at this year's Lions Fun run

THERE was a surge in entries for the 10km race at this weekend's Dorchester Lions Fun Runs.

More than 200 lined up on the Middle School field in perfect conditions for the event.

So many that organisers were forced to admit that the start that they might not have enough 'goody' bags for all the finishers.

"We've seen a surge in entries – almost certainly because of the interest in Dorchester's first marathon at the end of the month," said Lion Andy Rose.

In contrast the 2km saw under a hundred starters and very few who choose to run in fancy dress – compared with previous years.

Lining up for the shorter event was "running nun" Sister Augustine who has been running the event for more than 30 years – dating back to the time she was based in Dorchester.

Today she lives in Falmouth, but every year makes a pilgrimage back to Dorchester both for the run and for a catch-up with old friends.

She has raised more than £32,000 for her own favourite charities, including the Dorchester Poverty Action Group and the local hospice in Falmouth, by taking part since 1984.

During the years the charity run has raised more than a quarter of a million pounds for a range of causes.

This year marks the 35th year of the event.

Half of money will go to causes nominated by individual runners with the other half to supporting Lions charities.

The event is expected to raise £4,500 for charity.

It was declared open on Tuesday (May 16th) by Wessex FM's James O'Neill with two of the Friends' longest serving volunteers, Teresa Sear and Jenny Marshall.

To mark the occasion the Friends offered the first 50 customers who purchase a hot drink a free slice of homemade cake.

Friends Manager Sharon Merritt said: "Our fantastic new shop enables us to donate more for the benefit of patients and their families at the hospital."

"We'd like to thank everyone who has worked so hard to create the new shop and move everything over from our old site, together with our volunteers for their continued support during this time."

The shop will be open on weekdays from 8.30am to 4pm and at weekends from 2pm to 5pm.

Reporter | trevorbevins@gmail.com

WEYMOUTH and Portland community radio station AIR107.2 has been celebrating its fourth birthday.

Station manager Derek Greenacre said: "We're really grateful to Cineworld for their support. Sponsorship really does keep us on the airwaves."

He added he was "very proud" of the AIR Crew and added there was a "great community feeling" to the station.

Mr Greenacre said: "It's been really wonderful to have worked with the community in Weymouth and Portland for four years and we are looking forward to continuing our successful relationship in the future."

He added: "It has been an amazing journey so far and there's still so much to come."

AIR107.2 plays a mix of music aimed at under 25s, with regular 'hijack' shows where bands and artists take over the studio to perform live. They have a show highlighting community issues and allow charities and good causes to create 'AIR in the Community' - a free minute slot to promote their upcoming event.

BLUE LIGHT SKIN TREATMENT A ZAPPER'S DELIGHT

by Katie Wright, Press Association

WE'RE told to avoid the glare of phone screens at night because it keeps us awake, but Katie Wright discovers blue light can be an effective acne treatment.

Like many people, I spent my teenage years plagued by spots and was relieved when my complexion cleared up just as I was heading off to university.

But then in my mid-20s, slowly but surely, acne started to reappear.

It was never severe but my quest for spot-free skin continued into my 30s - and I'm not the only one.

The Association of Dermatologists reports a 200% rise in adult acne in recent years, likely due to a limited number of skincare specialists in the NHS.

Referred by my doctor, I went to a dermatologist. After trying various antibiotics and topical creams, I was prescribed Roaccutane, the controversial super-strength drug that can cause side effects, such as low mood and extremely dry skin.

It really worked, though, and I had perfect skin... but only for a year, after which the spots returned, albeit mildly.

Reluctant to go back for another six-month stint on Roaccutane, I decided to give a blue-light device a go, unconvinced that swiping a light-up gadget over my face twice a day would really help.

I was wrong. Within a few weeks my skin was virtually spot-free (save for the odd PMS-induced blemish) and I had ditched all my other creams and pills.

So, how exactly does blue light eliminate acne?

"Blue light kills bacteria in the pores, and over time this will slow down and reduce the acne cycle," explains Rebecca Bennett, a skincare expert at Johnson & Johnson.

Some devices emit red light as well, because it "reduces inflammation caused by acne - the redness or the height of the spots, for example. Red light can also help shrink the sebaceous glands that produce the oil that clogs pores."

Tests on Neutrogena's new Visibly Clear Light Therapy Acne Mask have delivered impressive results.

"In clinical trials, 80% of testers said they started to see the benefits after just one week, and after the 12-week trial period 94% experienced an improvement in their complexion," Bennett reports.

HEALTH & WELLBEING

feel great..

There is a variety of at-home devices on the market, and it can take only minutes a day to make a massive difference for mild to moderate acne sufferers.

Some are expensive, but compared with years of repeat prescriptions and over-the-counter creams, they may well work out cheaper. Here are six of the best...

SIX ACNE-CLEARING BLUE LIGHT DEVICES

- Neutrogena Visibly Clear Light Therapy Acne Mask, £59.99, Boots (www.boots.com)

Pros: A truly passive treatment, you pop on the mask, hit the start button and relax for 10 minutes (there's an eyehole so you can carry on watching TV but moving around is a bit trickier).

Cons: The mask emits both red and blue light, but as there's a gap between the lights and your skin, it may take longer to penetrate the skin. You also have to buy a replacement Activator, which contains 30 charges and costs £14.99, every month, so it works out at almost £240 per year.

- Talika Free Skin Anti-Blemish Device, £69, LookFantastic.com

Pros: The smallest of all the devices, the Talika is simple to use (and store), and is best if you need to target only small patches of acne with both red and blue light. It's also the cheapest over a year.

Cons: For the most effective treatment, you'll need to use it three times a day for two minutes at a time.

- Silk'n Blue Anti Acne Device, £139 (www.facethefuture.co.uk)

Pros: The Silk'n Blue is compact but the

Talika Free Skin
Anti-Blemish Device

blue light-emitting surface is a decent size for the price, so you can treat targeted areas in four minutes or larger patches in 10 minutes.

Cons: It only emits blue light, not red.

- Lumie Clear Acne Treatment Light, £149.99, Boots (www.boots.com)

Pros: Offering the largest surface area, the Lumie combines red and blue light in one cordless device that comes with a stand to allow you to target your body as well as your face.

Cons: Treatment takes anywhere from 15 minutes per area to 45 minutes, depending on how far away the light is.

- Baby Quasar Clear Rayz for Acne, £203.15, CurrentBody.com

Pros: The light surface area is large and the device has an in-built timer.

Cons: The blue and red lights are on opposite sides of the device and you have to follow a day-by-day regimen for three minutes in each area you're treating, remembering to alternate between blue and red, for eight weeks.

- Lustre Pure Light Pro Acne Treatment, £269, CurrentBody.com

Pros: With disposable patches that stick the lights to your skin, the Lustre offers a hands-free approach and the ability to treat three areas at once.

Cons: Treatment takes 20 minutes, much longer than some devices, and it's the most expensive.

Orchid Spa Complementary Therapies Practice

Orchid Spa can be your escape

TWO thousand years ago Plato pointed out that "the part can never be well unless the whole is well". We do not leave in vacuum. Everything we do is interconnected to all the parts of our lives. Sickness and disease are not isolated phenomena existing in their own little corners of our word any more than are health and healing. Our state of our health is influenced by all our activities, work and play, every relationship, the food we eat, our emotions and personalities, our physical living conditions.

When you have a headache, you take it with you everywhere. It becomes part of your whole life. When you feel wonderful, that exuberance and joy permeates your relationships at work and play.

My personal believe is that Reflexology, Massage and any other Holistic treatments can be a faithful source of strength and well-being, and should not be treated as a bottle of aspirin, sitting on the shelf waiting for a headache to come along before you use it.

Holistic treatments are more than just a remedy for unexpected ailments. It is a method for enhancing your ordinary life by keeping you at the peak of your energies and creativity. It is a preventive measure to maintain a well-balanced body that can ward off illness and fatigue and maintain an optimal state of health and well-being so that whatever you do, you do with more enthusiasm, joy and energy.

Reflexology, massage and any other type of Holistic treatments (Facial, Hydrotherapy, Infra-Red sauna) is a guaranteed method of relaxing body, composing the mind, and reenergizing and balancing the biological systems on which health depends. It is a powerful antidote to stress, neutralizing and even preventing the insidious effects of stress: the headaches, insomnia, high blood pressure, colds, indigestion, backaches, neck and shoulders tension, and other minor ailments that plague us.

Chesil to rock for Samaritans

A DAY-long festival of music and arts near Weymouth on June 24th will support the work of local Samaritans.

Chesil Rocks 2017 hopes to attract around 500 people to the Higher Farmhouse site at Langton Her-ring.

Co-director of the event Tim Warren says he believes that over the past five years it has become one of Dorset's best small-scale events, attracting a wide age range.

Amongst the performers will be the WTF Band featuring Robbie Macintosh and guitarist Mick Taylor, former member of John Mayall and the Bluesbreakers and The Rolling Stones.

Also at the event will be the London Gay Men's Chorus, Million Dollar Bash, a Bob Dylan and The Band tribute act and XTalk, an alternative pop duo from Manchester.

Local comedian Tom Glover will also take to the stage with the day also featuring activities for children, stalls, magicians and a range of food and drink.

The event last year raised £8,000 for the Samaritans in Dorset.

Tickets for Chesil Rocks 2017 are £15 for adults, £7.50 for 11-16 year-olds, while under 11s go free.

Tickets can be purchased at www.chesilrocks.com

Future of farming technology subject of college conference

A CONFERENCE focusing on the use of technology in agriculture is being held at Kingston Maurward College this week.

The college and Dorset County Council, supported by the Dorset LEP, are hosting the event on Friday, May 19th.

Delegates will include academics, farmers, research scientists, suppliers to agriculture and other industries. They will hear a series of Government and industry leaders who will identify just what Agri tech means and the potential benefits for Dorset.

A 'market place' during the day will allow agriculture related businesses and bodies to showcase their wares.

Workshops will discuss current challenges in agriculture and prioritise possible solutions with the networking of solutions from other sectors.

Kingston Maurward College Principal, Luke Rake, said: "Following recent LEP funding of £900k and the opening of our new Agri-tech facility, Kingston Maurward is pleased to be at the heart of the development of precision agriculture in the South West.

"This conference is a fantastic opportunity for key players to come together to move the agenda forward in Dorset and surrounding counties to enable business growth and development in all areas of Agricultural practice."

A DANCE class specifically for people with Parkinson's has received a cash boost from local housing provider, Magna Housing.

Designed to be fun, stimulating and motivating, the sessions support the participants in some of the typical challenges of Parkinson's by working on balance, co-ordination and suppleness through the dance sequences.

Aimee Hobbs, Parkinson's Dance co-ordinator for the developers of the classes, Pavilion Dance South West (PDSW), has been running the classes in Bournemouth and is about to start on a second year in Dorchester.

She worked with an expert in Parkinson's dance science, Dr Sophia Hulbert, to design the class model.

Aimee said: "This model of class brings together the physio and the dance world, with each element of the session containing strong reasoning for why it is beneficial for people with Parkinson's."

"The class also provides a social opportunity, enabling people to talk to others who are also living with Parkinson's."

"I can see a visible difference in people after leaving the class, so I'm really proud to be part of this."

Janet Mellor has been coming to the group for nearly a year said: "I come every week so long as I am not on holiday."

"It's made a vast improvement to my movement and makes a huge difference to me. I don't always remember to practise at home but I always leave the classes walking better."

"I'm able to do things, such as gardening, that I couldn't do last year and the class is always good fun."

Mark Tattersall, artistic director at Dorchester Arts, who host the classes, said: "Dorchester Arts are really pleased to offer these classes at The Corn Exchange."

"We recently supported the development of a play which raises awareness of Parkinson's, so offering the dance class here made perfect sense."

"To run the course, we have to ask for funding from the local community and we're really grateful that Magna Housing was able to donate £500 towards the classes."

Nick Hill, project and administration manager at Magna Housing, said: "We want to support the communities we are based in, and donating £500 towards the running costs means they can continue these fantastic classes for another year."

Further funding has been provided by West Dorset District Council, Parkinson's UK and a local charitable trust.

The class is held at The Corn Exchange in Dorchester on Tuesdays at 3pm and costs £4, with carers attending free. The sessions are led by trained specialists and are available for anyone with Parkinson's to drop in and try.

For more information about Parkinson's Dance, email enquiries@dorchesterarts.org.uk or call 01305 266926.

Spring cleaning? Think fire safety

Dorset and Wiltshire Fire and Rescue are asking people to consider fire safety at home when doing their spring cleaning.

They ask people to clear the clutter that may be blocking escape routes and to make sure their family, guests and loved ones know how to get out, stay out, and call 999 in the event of a fire.

The organisation says this is also a good time to check that smoke alarms are working – with at least one on every level of your home.

Other things to consider include keeping your door and window keys in a known and accessible place and making sure everyone knows where the door and window keys are kept so they can reach them easily and get out quicker in case of a fire.

Safe and Well Manager, Gavin Barnes, said: "Every second counts when escaping a fire. Having working smoke alarms and knowing the escape plan in an emergency could make all the difference.

"If you have dependants or someone less able to care for, it could take more time to get out, stay out and call 999.

"Make sure you're always prepared, that your exits are clear and that everyone knows what to do if the worst should happen."

Local volunteers wanted for new countywide health and care 'public engagement group'

PEOPLE living in and around Dorset are being invited to apply to join a new public engagement group as a key part of the work to improve health and care across the county, as detailed in the county's Sustainability and Transformation Plan (STP).

STP partner organisations are seeking to recruit approximately 20 members of the public to the new Public Engagement Group (PEG) who will have lived experience of Dorset's geography, demography and diversity.

Their key role will be to provide advice, guidance and challenge to inform public engagement.

Partner organisations are keen to emphasise the value of hearing a wide variety of views and are encouraging people to get involved in projects that affect Dorset residents.

Anyone who is interested is invited to find out more via the NHS Dorset CCG website – www.dorsetccg.nhs.uk – and complete the expression of interest form.

Any de longh, a national patient leader who led the CCG's Clinical Services Review patient group said: "I am delighted to see that partner organisations see the importance of a strong and influential group of local people as a key part of their STP work."

People who are interested but do not have access to the internet can obtain paper copies of the information and form by calling 01202 541946.

Applications for membership and the position of group chair will be considered by officers representing all partner organisations.

This is still your newspaper!

MY attempt to start a new newspaper group in East Devon did not exactly get off to a stunning start.

I thought it would be clever to call our first edition "This Is Honiton" which would lend itself to using "This is..." as the title for the various sections, ie "This is Motoring", "This is Entertainment". You get the idea, I'm sure.

We had agreed to print the first edition on the Express & Echo press in Exeter and gave notice what we intended to call our publication. I was invited to the press hall on the Sowton estate to see the first edition off the press, which is normal when launching a new title. I think we may have cracked open a bottle of bubbly. Nothing was said about the name of the paper.

In those days in April 2005 local newspapers were enjoying something of a revival after the difficult recession years of the early 1990s. The Express & Echo was owned by Northcliffe Newspapers, one of the giants of the regional press, and I did not imagine for one moment we would cause too much alarm in the higher echelons of Northcliffe's management.

Although we encroached on the Echo's Honiton territory I doubt whether it was thought we would provide much competition.

The printers and local management congratulated us on the look of the paper and I drove home satisfied with our first editions and determined to build a stable in East Devon.

By group editor and founder PHILIP EVANS

But within 24 hours I had a very disturbing call from a Northcliffe executive saying that if I did not change the name of our paper they would refuse to print us and serve an injunction on us to stop using the title "This Is". I was flabbergasted. Only a few hours earlier we were being congratulated on the production of the first edition.

It turned out that Northcliffe's websites in the South West were called "This Is" followed by the town or county name and it was thought this would cause some confusion among the readers and possible lost revenue.

I had launched my new publishing venture on a shoestring and had no intention of entering into a lengthy legal battle with one of the UK's most successful and profitable publishing houses.

I had started the venture by launching a monthly in the countryside around Honiton called "View from the Blackdown Hills" so I quickly decided to call our new weekly "View from Honiton".

Not one reader questioned the change the following week or queried why our dump bins in the supermarkets were branded "This Is Your Local Newspaper". I suppose that description still ran true and some of those bins are still in operation today.

The Honiton edition was quickly followed by one for Colyton, which had never had its own newspaper before, Seaton, Axminster, Sidmouth and Ottery St Mary.

Within a year we crossed the Dorset border with new editions for Lyme Regis, Bridport, Beaminster and Dorchester before looking towards South Somerset and town titles for Crewkerne, Chard and Ilminster. The final piece to our distribution jigsaw was Weymouth.

We started distributing 7,000 copies a week and by the time we got to Weymouth we were having to print 40,000 copies at peak times all available free via dump bins at around 500 different drop-off points in East Devon, West Dorset and South Somerset.

We started with just five employees, now we have more than 30. And as one executive of a rival publisher told me quite recently: "You have been a bloody irritant!"

They were heady days. My wife Jackie and I worked seven days a week for several years without a holiday and sometimes without getting paid and we both suffered serious illnesses. We can't say it was down to the stress of building a publishing empire but I don't suppose it helped.

We were lucky. We recruited a dedicated and committed staff, many of whom shared our ups and downs and are still with us..

It has not been all plain sailing. The recession of 2008 hit us hard, as it did all local newspapers, and it took us years to recover. But we managed to keep our employees in a job.

Eventually I was forced to sell out to Lyme Regis businessman Jerry Ramsdale who saved us from going out of business and then we became part of the Tindle Newspapers Group, owned and run by a legend of my industry, Sir Ray Tindle, and were amalgamated with my beloved Pulman's Weekly News where I cut my teeth in journalism. We still carry that name on the front page of our Axminster edition.

Two years ago I gained part ownership of the titles after launching new titles into central London for Sir Ray, a huge challenge and one I have enjoyed immensely.

Our business has changed immensely over the years, not only for the minnows like View From but also for our larger competitors who have had to reduce staffing levels and close offices.

We have amalgamated editions to stay ahead of the game as times are still really tough with local papers facing increased competition from the digital media.

But as we head towards our 600th edition let me go back to day one.

Whilst I can't use the name on our front page, THIS IS STILL YOUR NEWSPAPER and we hope it will remain that way for many years to come.

Our first edition - named for just one week "This Is Honiton"

The first Seaton with Beer edition

...and more vital than ever

IN the countdown to this year's Local Newspaper Week, the people who bring you the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series of newspapers are joining fellow publishers across Britain to launch the first ever print and digital campaign against fake news and highlight the very high levels of trust that readers place in local newspapers

FIGHTING FAKE NEWS

A NEW press campaign called Fighting Fake News will see local newspapers like ours across the UK carry editorial and graphics highlighting the industry's highly trusted credentials and the importance of local newspapers in reporting on the issues like the forthcoming general election.

Papers will highlight the checks and balances involved in reporting local news and the investment required to produce local journalism as opposed to distributing fake news to profit from opaque programmatic advertising.

The campaign will also highlight the highly-trusted environment which local papers provide for advertisers and commercial partners.

Co-ordinated through Local Media Works, the local marketing arm of the News Media Association, Fighting Fake News will run up to and complement Local Newspaper Week, which highlights local newspapers' ability to make a difference for their communities through campaigning.

News Media Association chairman Ashley Highfield said: "The critical role of local newspapers in providing local communities with highly trusted news and advertisement platforms is even more important than ever in the run up to the general election."

"Through their reporting, local newspapers uphold, promote and support democracy, fighting against the fake news which undermines and subverts it. We must champion the vital democratic function of local newspapers now, more than ever."

Fighting Fake News will run up to and through Local Newspaper Week

(May 15 to 21) which, through Making a Difference, will see the local newspaper industry come together to celebrate the campaigning achievements of local newspapers.

Prime Minister Theresa May has given her backing to the Fighting Fake News campaign by warning of the dangers of fake news distributed on social media.

Mrs May also said she gave her strong support to a free press which underpins democracy by investing in highly trusted journalism.

She said: "We need to be very wary of this concept of fake news. We have got a situation with social media and different outlets where anybody can put something on a social media site as if it's real without anybody checking."

"People need to recognise that and recognise you can't trust everything you see on social media."

"We know newspapers have a responsibility that they take seriously in terms of what they are reporting."

"A free press is very important, it underpins our democracy. It's also important for [politicians] to make sure the statements we make are upfront and transparent for people."

Mrs May was speaking as the local press industry runs the Fighting Fake News campaign to highlight the importance of trusted local media journalism in the run up to the general election.

ing Fake News campaign is aimed at reminding readers about the importance of our brands in bringing you trusted news. In a world where misinformation and unsubstantiated facts can be published to huge audiences via social media platforms, with no regulation, papers like the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series have a long and proud history of bringing you well researched and accurate journalism. Throughout the campaign, we will be asking readers and advertisers to support us in delivering this message and to get involved in learning about how we carry out our trade.

Right time to support your local newspaper

ADVERTISING in your local newspaper and on its website is not just good for your business – it is a socially responsible way to support your community and to support local companies.

That was one of the messages to emerge in the run up to Local Newspaper Week.

Research shows that local newspapers are the most trusted of all sources of news and information and remain critical in ensuring communities are not merely kept informed of decisions that directly affect them but are also central to the debate.

Firms that advertise regularly do not merely benefit from that engaged and responsive readership – they are fundamental to ensuring that everyone can get access to a copy and that quality journalism remains an intrinsic and essential part.

Without any advertising, many local newspapers like the View From and Pulman's Weekly News series would not survive. That could mean that far from being able to pick up your favourite newspaper for free, you would be asked to pay potentially several pounds per edition, depending on the number of pages and the size of the editorial operation.

Advertising has always underpinned great local journalism – but in recent years part of that revenue stream has moved away, often to entirely unregulated social sites where there are no embedded checks against fake news nor professionally-trained journalists.

The View From and Pulman's Weekly News titles that serve our part of the world are subject to some of the most robust regulation in the world. They are bound by the Editors' Code of Practice, which sets out clear standards on everything from accuracy to respecting privacy and protecting children.

Their regulator is the Independent Press Standards Organisation, which has wide-ranging powers, from insisting on corrections to launching standards inquiries and ultimately imposing fines.

Lord Justice Leveson, in his inquiry into the Press, praised local and regional titles. His report described them as a much valued and important part of the British press.

He said: "It is clear to me that local, high-quality and trusted newspapers are good for our communities, our identity and our democracy and play an important social role."

According to the Making A Difference campaign run by Local Media Works, the local marketing arm of the News Media Association (NMA), local titles like this one collectively reach 40 million people across the UK. There are 1,000 local newspapers and 1,700 associated websites.

Together they are the first port of call for 5.4 million people looking for a bargain.

Most tellingly, according to research data provided by the campaign organisers, local media is the most trusted source of information and readers are more than twice as likely to act on ads in local media than ads on TV and social media.

The News Media Association's deputy chief executive Lynne Anderson said: "News media publishers are the best defence against fake news because they invest in high quality journalism which readers can rely on. This in turn creates a highly trusted and engaging environment which drives real action for commercial partners.

"It is vital that we do everything we can to support original journalism and enable newspapers to continue their proud tradition of robustly holding power to account through the campaigning and investigative reporting which underpins democracy in this country."

Throughout the 19th century, there were ongoing battles against taxes on newspapers because they were seen as 'taxes on knowledge' until Chancellor of the Exchequer William Gladstone abolished all such duties.

There are some who believe that as a result the press played a critical role in the spread of trusted information which was fundamental to the social reform that we all take for granted.

That's why newspapers are so proud of their advertisers.

By advertising with local newspapers and websites businesses continue to do the very best for their customers and for the whole community in which they operate.

Alasdair Beatson in concert

ALASDAIR BEATSON'S reputation as a musician of the highest order precedes him. This gifted young Scottish pianist, who is also Concerts in the West's patron, delivers consistently brilliant performances that have earned him glowing reviews from the toughest music critics.

Renowned as a dedicated musician and a 'canny and uncompromising' programmer, Beatson is unafraid to explore more exotic pieces and his programme for his Concerts in the West 1-3 June tour, which features a selection by Beethoven, Bartok, Debussy, Schumann, Dohnanyi and Satie, reflects this bold but successful approach.

Alasdair's previous Concerts in the West performances has shown him to be an intense artiste, totally involved in his choice of works. He seeks to overcome an audience's preconceived ideas through the power of music and his concerts undoubtedly leave a lasting impression. His individual approach and magical interpretations all contribute to building an excellent rapport with the audience.

As well as having an affinity with the classical repertoire, especially the music of Schumann (featured in this tour's programme) and Fauré, he also enjoys exploring more exotic arrangements and for Concerts in the West he will, as part of the programme for the four concerts, be playing Debussy's Images Book 2, which reflects his passion for pictures - "I love pictures almost as much as music" - and his desire to paint pictures with his music.

Alasdair is a prolific soloist and chamber musician and his 2017 concerts include London's Wigmore Hall and Kings Place, Zurich's Tonhalle, the West Cork Chamber Music Festival and festivals such as Ryedale, Resonances and Ernen. This year a recording of 19th century music for horn and piano, featuring Alasdair with Alec Frank-Gemmill will be released on the BIS Records label.

Catherine Maddocks, founder and director of Concerts in the West, said: "It is such a pleasure to welcome back Alasdair Beatson. He first performed for Concerts in the West in 2007, just as he was embarking on a career as a professional musician, and then again in 2012 and 2014. In that time he has gone on to achieve many great things, so we are delighted that he is able to take the time to perform for Concerts in the West audiences. For us, it is like welcoming an old friend."

Alasdair Beatson plays at coffee concert at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 2nd from 11am-12noon. Tickets are £10 (concessions available), available by calling 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

What happens when the wildest parts of our imagination take control?

WHAT happens when the wildest parts of our imagination take control? After the death of her mother, Ellie escapes to a flickering world of comic book heroes and bewitching strangers. But as the walls of her new world begin to crumble, Ellie must finally face the truth behind her fantasies.

A visually stunning exploration of the power of grief and childish imagination. This play has particular resonance in Mental Health Awareness Week, touching on themes of loss and adolescent mental health through innovative theatrical stylings.

Developed with teenagers, therapists, psychiatrists and neurologists with support from the Wellcome Trust and Arts Council England, Sparkle &

Dark Theatre Company have explored how the edges of clinical diagnoses can blur with the idea of an active, childhood imagination where alternative worlds are often created as coping mechanisms.

Also at Bridport Arts Centre. I Am Beast comes to Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, May 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £12/£10, available from www.bridport-arts.com 01308 424204.

Wille and the Bandits ride into Lyme Regis

WILLE and The Bandits, break off from their European tour, to return to the South West to headline the Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend finale on Sunday, May 28th at the Marine Theatre.

With extensive touring, with the likes of Deep Purple, Status Quo and Joe Bonamassa, Wille and The Bandits have slowly but surely built a strong reputation beyond their Cornish roots.

As a hard-working three-piece, Wille's Bandits are too wild and experimental to be musically pigeon-holed. Stylistically crossing Cream with Jimi Hendrix, they've just released their third album, Steal, which delivers old school blues rock with a vibrant twist.

Just consider the number of instruments which they usually take on stage – with Wille's slide acoustic and lap slide guitars and a Weissenborn, Mathew Brooks with a six-string and five-string electric double bass and Andy Naumann on drums, djembe and congas.

"It stems from playing in Cornwall in barns and jamming with lots of instruments", says Wille Edwards. "Flying to gigs is a nightmare with the amount of stuff we have. Sometimes I wish we were a ukulele band".

So, how would they describe their music? "It's rootsy, bluesy and rocky – we straddle genres. We give marketing people headaches because they like to be able to pigeon-hole music but we've never wanted to stick with one genre".

They are, in other words, unique. But from this musical melting pot comes some of the most exciting, funkiest "blues" around – which is best experienced live. It is not surprising then that they were voted one of the top ten must-see bands at Glastonbury by Radio 1.

■ Wille and the Bandits

To prove this very point they recorded their latest album, Steal, on old school analogue tape, played as one take, to reproduce the sound of their live performances.

Supporting Wille is local bluesman, Adam Sweet, whose blues-influenced solo career, perfectly marries fine guitar picking with soulful vocals and increasingly accomplished song-writing.

Wille And The Bandits, play at Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend on Sunday, May 28th at 8pm. Tickets are available by calling 01297 442138 or online at the website www.lymeregisjazzfestival.co.uk.

Sounds of the 60s

AWARD-WINNING musicians 'The Zoots' have sold over half a million albums, wowed audiences of stage and screen in more than 30 countries, and played iconic venues like Old Trafford and The London Palladium. The Zoots' music has appeared on TV ads, and made lead singer Jamie Goddard a gold-selling songwriter. Yet according to the band, their greatest challenge comes on May 19th in Lyme Regis – because that's when The Zoots debut at The Marine Theatre!

With his clean-cut good looks and friendly manner, you might be forgiven for thinking that dishy lead singer Jamie Goddard would be unfazed by being in the spotlight. After all, Jamie divides his time between working as a male fashion model, and being the front man for a family-friendly, Sixties-themed band that 'The Stage' calls "impossible not to like". But Jamie is nervous about playing The Zoots' hit show at the place he spent lots of holidays, he toured The Zoots round an incredible 30 countries before finally summoning the courage to organise a show at The Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis.

It's been a great twelve months for The Zoots. The band headlined at The Goodwood Festival, and were featured in the book 'Guardians of Rock and Roll' by world-famous photographer Michael Randolph, who was the official photographer to The Rolling Stones.

Tickets for The Zoots' Sounds of the 60s on Friday, May 19th are available for just £15, £13 concessions from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre or call the box office on 01297 442138.

The Anchor Inn is VisitEngland's Tourism Pub of the Year

THE ANCHOR INN at Seatown, near Bridport, is no stranger to an award and has just topped the lot with a huge national accolade having just been crowned Visit England's tourism pub of the year! It's the latest in a list of seven top awards the pub has picked up since October 2016, including Dorset's best pub (National Pub and Bar Awards 2017), Dorset's Best Gastro Pub (Dorset Food & Drink awards) and Taste of the West Gold.

It really is a sign of how far they've come since their refurbishment, which was three years ago this month and one year on from head chef Jean-Paul De Ronne taking the helm in the kitchen and David Smith working his magic with the drinks and cocktail menu.

This month also sees the launch of the new summer menu, which can be seen on the page opposite. The menu is very much a progression from last summer's offering, which had a real feel of outdoor summer eating meets fine dining. This summer's menu develops the outdoor eating flavour but goes a little bit "dirtier" with lots of BBQ style dishes utilising local produce from Belair Hayes Farm and Jurassic Meats. It definitely has a fun, summer food vibe and sees the return of some true Anchor favourites. One such example is the Anker hot dog (Anker from the measurement used by smugglers to Lyme Bay in the 18th century), described by actor Martin Clunes as the best hot dog he's ever had. The 10 inch own recipe German style sausage is complimented by browned onions, kraut slaw, cheddar and maple mustard.

The burgers are also something to savour and the Smugglers Burger is another making a big comeback with a revamp. A smoked beef patty using Jurassic Coast Meat's minced beef topped with slow cooked and charred pork shoulder from rare breed farm Bellair Haye. It is then topped with locally made smoked cheddar, pickled cucumber & finished with roasted garlic mayo - a prime example of perfect summer food.

Diners can always expect to see plenty of fresh crab and lobster dishes throughout the summer season on the specials board. Caught literally yards from the kitchen, these dishes will have travelled some of the shortest food miles possible. This ultra-local theme continues throughout the menu with JP and the rest of the kitchen team foraging for lots of ingredients on the beach and countryside surrounding the pub.

As well as using local produce, another major feature of the food at the Anchor is sustainability and strong ethics. JP uses the menu to raise awareness of the plight of the British Billy Goat and introduces a goat dish into the starters. Wonderful, local, underused meat that is crucial to the sustainability of the great British menu.

Despite the humble ethics of the team in the kitchen you can also expect to find something a little different and out of the ordinary. Previously this would have been found in the shape of dishes such as compressed watermelon, but JP's latest creation is a cured pressed cucumber dish that can be found amongst the starters. If you are feeling adventurous and want to try something that experiments with some new and exciting flavour combinations, give it a try!

The Anchor Inn boasts one of the best settings along the Jurassic Coast with spectacular views of Lyme Bay, which can be experienced from three guest rooms as well as the terrace. A trip to the Anchor is an absolute must.

Dacia Summit range arrives in the UK

DACIA has launched a new special edition range – the SE Summit – on the Duster, New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway, based on the top-level trim for each vehicle. Revealed at the Geneva International Motor Show in March, the distinctive and affordable Summit Special Editions will be available in the UK from June priced from £10,995.

Inspired by the great outdoors, the SE Summit range bring an exclusive and unique look to the range and provide extra equipment over and above the existing top-of-range versions. The SE Summit range is available with the same powertrain line-up as the other Stepway versions and in five powertrain options for Duster.

New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway

The SE Summit versions of the New Sandero Stepway and New Logan MCV Stepway stand out thanks to an exclusive new metallic colour, Nordic Grey. The Sandero Stepway Summit Special Edition is also available in Magma Orange. These new colours are complemented by 16-inch Dark Metal flex-wheels.

Inside the cabin, the Summit Special Editions boast unique upholstery; the seats are recognisable thanks to their Burnt Orange piping and top-stitching, plus the 'Stepway' logo embroidered into the fabric in the same colour. The same Burnt Orange detailing is throughout the cabin, including on the centre console cover and air vent surrounds.

SE Summit for the Stepway models are based on Lauréate trim, and add a rear parking camera and a front central armrest to the equipment list which already includes air conditioning, Media Nav Evolution multimedia system with satellite navigation, DAB Radio and Bluetooth connectivity, rear parking sensors, cruise control and speed limiter.

The Stepway SE Summit versions are priced from £10,995 for New Sandero Stepway £12,295 for New Logan MCV Stepway, representing an uplift of £800 compared to the equivalent Lauréate which includes the exclusive metallic paint and extra equipment.

The New Sandero Stepway range is available from £8,995 on-the-road and the New Logan MCV Stepway range is available from £11,495 on-the-road.

Duster

The Duster SE Summit, based on the top-of-the-range Duster Prestige, offers exclusive new Nordic Grey metallic paint and 16-inch diamond-cut black 'Cyclades' alloy wheels. The SE Summit also adds a body kit consisting of wheel-larch guards and protective side mouldings, enhancing the rugged exterior of the Duster.

Inside, the seats feature Burnt Orange piping and top-stitching, with the name 'Duster' embroidered into the fabric. The air vent surrounds are highlighted in Burnt Orange, and the carpet mats are finished with matching top-stitching.

This is on top of the high amount of equipment that comes as standard on Prestige trim such as a rear parking camera, MediaNav touchscreen navigation with satellite navigation, DAB radio and SIRI 'Eyes Free' and electric front and rear windows as standard.

The Duster SE Summit is priced from £15,195 – £1,000 above the equivalent Prestige model which includes exclusive metallic paint and rugged new exterior protection.

Whilst the Summit Special Edition sits atop the New Duster line-up, the range starts from just £9,495 on-the-road.

All versions provide the peace of mind of Dacia's three year / 60,000 mile warranty and assistance package. The car is protected by Dacia for the first three years or 60,000 miles. There is also a two-year paint warranty and six years' cover against corrosion.

Servicing is required once a year or every 12,000 miles.

Jeep announces new limited edition Wrangler Night Eagle

JEEP is expanding its Wrangler range of 4x4 vehicles with the introduction of a stunning limited edition, the Night Eagle.

Revealed at this year's Geneva Motor Show, the Jeep Wrangler Night Eagle comes in a choice of striking colours with exclusive decals, and provides a unique style, premium equipment levels and, of course, Jeep's legendary off-road capability.

Just 66 examples of this special new arrival are bound for the UK – all fitted with Jeep's 2.8-litre CRD 200hp turbo diesel engine paired to a five speed automatic gearbox. The engine gives the car a 0-62mph time of 10.7 seconds and a top speed of 107mph. The Euro 6 unit can return a combined 31.4mpg and has a 235g/km CO2 figure.

Legendary Wrangler capability is achieved through the standard Command-Trac part-time, two-speed transfer case with a low-range gear ratio.

Finished in unique Xtreme Purple, Alpine White or Solid Black paint the Night Eagle receives distinctive decals on the bonnet and rear quarter panels, 18-inch mid-gloss black wheels, body-colour grille, mid-gloss black colour accents, headlamp rings and Jeep badge, body colour dual top, black fuel filler door, deep tint sunscreen glass and hard spare tyre cover.

Inside, the new Night Eagle features standard black McKinley leather seats with black sport mesh fabric inserts and a leather-wrapped steering wheel with Diesel Gray accent stitching. A black vinyl-wrapped console lid and front door armrest with Diesel Gray accent stitching, Piano Black grab handle and vent ring bezels, and All-Weather slush mats complete the distinctive interior to this special edition model.

The full standard equipment creates a comfortable, high-tech driving environment which includes the nine-speaker Alpine Premium Audio System with subwoofer and the Uconnect Navigation system with CD/DVD/MP3, 6.5-inches touchscreen, AUX and USB ports.

The new Jeep Wrangler Night Eagle will cost £39,810 OTR when it goes on sale in the UK this week.

SEAT announces UK pricing and specification for new Ateca FR

UNVEILED this week at the Automobile Barcelona show, SEAT UK is now whetting British customers' appetites with details of specifications and pricing for the sporty FR addition to its Ateca SUV range.

SEAT's first SUV has already proved a huge hit, both with UK media and in the marketplace, its sales performance since launch last September helping the brand soar to record heights. The new FR will extend its appeal further with an injection of the sporty style and performance that are at the heart of the Barcelona-based brand.

There is a choice of four powerful and efficient engines – two petrol and two diesel, all of them turbocharged. Entry point is the 1.4 Eco TSI 150 PS, available with six-speed manual or DSG-auto transmission. Well worthy of the FR badge, it takes Ateca from rest to 62 mph in just 8.5 seconds and achieve a 125 mph top speed (manual version). Conversely, its official combined fuel economy and emissions figures are impressive at 52.3 mpg and 123 g/km. The brand new 2.0 TSI 190 PS, debuting in Ateca, is offered exclusively with 4Drive all-wheel drive and DSG transmission. Its statistics are 40.4 mpg combined fuel economy and 0-62mph in just 7.9 seconds.

The 2.0 TDI 150 PS also comes with 4Drive for added traction, posting benchmarks of 0-62 mph in nine seconds exactly and 122 mph maximum, with 55.4 mpg average fuel economy and CO2 emissions at 129 g/km.

Topping out the powertrain options is the 2.0 TDI 190 PS with 4Drive and seven-speed DSG transmission. It harnesses that horsepower to carve a second off the 0-62mph sprint (7.5 seconds), with top speed rising to 132 mph. Being a SEAT engine, maybe it's no surprise that it has only a modest thirst for fuel – an official 53.3 mpg average, with CO2 at 135 g/km.

■ SEAT Ateca FR

Styling and equipment

The Ateca's cool styling gains a number of features that declare its FR designation, including a high-gloss black front grille, aluminium roof rails, window frames and lower door trim, chrome double tailpipes, body colour wheel arch surrounds, side skirts and a roof spoiler. It rides on 18-inch "Performance" alloys, or optional 19-inch "Exclusive" rims with a machined finish.

The FR specification need only be the start of the story, with a wealth of options available for customers to equip their Ateca to the max. The choice includes advanced driving, convenience and winter packs, a panoramic sunroof, Connectivity Hub with wireless phone charger, Park Assist and an even more sophisticated navigation package with dynamic route guidance.

The new SEAT Ateca FR will be available to order from 3 July 2017, with first deliveries to UK customers expected from October.

On-the-road prices are as follows:-

1.4 Eco TSI 150 PS (manual) - £24,960

Plush new kit brings success

THE weather continues to be kind to evening league cricket players, with 12 more matches completed last week writes Robin Potter.

The first round of the cup is now complete and there will be a new name on the trophy with last year's winners Cattistock beaten off the last ball of their match by Martinstown.

The beginning of the second round has already produced the first surprise, with Plush from Division Two beating Division One side Dewlish. Roger Edmonds' 5-28, including a hat-trick, restricted the visitors to 127-7, and Plush to passed this score in the last over.

Dan Belt did his best, taking two wickets but Graeme Stephens was able to see Plush home while celebrating the use of their new kit.

In league games ASM were again victims of superb bowling figures, this time from Gabs Osbourne with 6-12. Their total of 138 was rather more respectable though still not enough to prevent the points going to Dorchester Casuals.

Good figures of 4-15 by Puddletown 2nds' Steven Chaldecott deserve praise, but Winfrith beat his side by three wickets, whilst Cerne Valley comfortably saw off Frampton thanks to an unbeaten 85 from Alex Healey and 4-19 from George Hutchins.

There were also wins for Abbotsbury by just one run against Cattistock 2nds, and for Puddletown, where 60 from skipper Lucas Allen proved too much for Bere Regis while 4-25 from Ryan Norman saw off Charlton Down.

There was an astounding innings at the Herrison Oval where Charlton Down's Sam Roles hit visitors Hazelbury Bryan to all parts of the ground making 154 not out (10x6, 16x4) from just 56 balls. Not surprisingly the away side did not threaten Charlton Down's total of 216, losing by 138 runs.

■ WHIRLWIND KNOCK: Sam Roles smashed 10 6s in his 56-ball 154 not out for Charlton Down.

■ NEW FACES WELCOME: Dorchester Tennis and Squash Club held an open day at their club on Sawmills Lane, Weymouth Avenue on Sunday. If you missed out don't worry, new members are always welcome. Contact 01305 268103, admin@dtsc.org.uk or www.dtsc.org.uk for details

Laird lining up new faces

DORCHESTER TOWN manager Craig Laird is close to naming new faces to his squad writes Stuart Broom.

He told View Sport that he was hoping to make an announcement about new signings later this week after discussions with two or three players last night (Tuesday).

He said: "We are trying to be careful with our signings. We want to stagger our approach and be more selective. We've invited quite a lot of local players to see what they have to offer and ensure that they are aware of what is expected of them as they step up in standard to a semi-professional club, and mix that with experienced signings."

The county town boss confirmed that the majority of last year's squad would be returning with the exception of goalkeeper Shane Murphy who has left for AFC Totton.

Laird is quite keen to involve local players, but only if they have the ability. "We need to try and get the better local lads on board regardless of whether they are 15 or 35, and give them the opportunity to play at a higher standard."

WEYMOUTH have confirmed that two more of last season's squad have signed new contracts, whilst two other have decided to leave the club.

Striker Ben Thompson and defender Calvin

Brooks have both agreed new contracts, but Chris Shephard, considered by many to be the playmaker and most influential player for the Terras last season, and Jake Wannell have both decided to leave.

Shephard who was plagued by injuries last season is being linked with Salisbury City and former Exeter City defender Wannell join Mark Cooper and Dean Evans who are both joining Chippenham Town, and Billy Lowes making their exit.

Terras assistant manager Paul Maitland is quoted as saying that both felt they couldn't commit the time to the club.

BRIDPORT manager Adam Fricker has confirmed that former Bee Tom Richardson is rejoining the club. The striker left St Mary's last summer for Portland United. He enjoyed a good start to the season in which he scored 12 goals in 27 appearances, the best strike rate in the club, before he sustaining a knee injury which sidelined him for a long period after the New Year, before returning for the final few games.

PORTLAND UNITED confirmed former Hamworthy United and Wimborne Town manager Simon Browne as their manager to succeed Gary Bailey who stood down at the end of the season.

WITH STUART BROOM

Premier League Sherborne (16) 103 beat Dorchester (8) 94 by 9 runs

ONLY Sherborne opener Luke Hancock (32) showed much form with the bat as Dorchester's Dan Belt claimed 5-26. Simon Mitchem backed him up with 3-40 as they dismissed their hosts for 103 all out.

It seemed plain sailing for the county town side on a good wicket, but they fared no better with Mitchem (21) top scorer, and they fell nine runs short.

Martinstown (20) 113-3 beat Shroton (2) 112 all out by 7 wickets

MARTINSTOWN bounced back after defeat at Dorchester with a comprehensive victory over promoted Shroton.

Martinstown's opening bowlers Matt Camp (2-26) and Mike Kennedy-Barnard (3-28) claimed a wicket each to leave the visitors 17-2, but Matthew Hewitt (36) and skipper Marc Doble (17) held them off before Fraser Hill (3-26 from 10) them helped dismiss them for 112.

Martinstown never appeared in trouble in reply as Ed Nichols (30) and Sean Williams (27) opened with a stand of 43, before Lee House (27*) saw them home with 25 overs to spare.

County Division 1 Christchurch (10) 148 lost to Cattistock (18) 151 by 3 runs

CATTISTOCK sit second in Division 1 after an exciting victory over Christchurch.

Christchurch looked odds on favourites at 143-5 needing nine for victory and six overs to get them, but in a remarkable finish Cattistock claimed the last five wickets for just five runs in 3.2 overs.

Having been put in, Cattistock were soon in trouble at 47-3. Only Billy Walbridge (30) and Sam Baker (27) showed much resistance, and only the addition of 45 extras saw them reach a modest total of 151.

Christchurch didn't fare any better as Brad Damen (2-22) and Sam Baker (1-28) reduced them to 31-3.

However some decent middle order scores only interrupted by Jon Legg (2-15) saw the hosts move to within eight of victory.

It was the return of Martin Langford (3-40) that sparked the remarkable turnaround as he claimed 3-3 from his two overs, and with Walbridge (2-22) weighing in with 2-2 from his last eight balls, victory was snatched from the jaws of defeat.

Weymouth (19) 152-1 beat

Hamworthy Rec (3) 151-8 by 9 wickets
Asked to field, the nagging accuracy of opening bowlers Neil Walton and Graham Puckett, saw the visitors limp to 35-1 after 22 overs.

This signalled a change of attitude and Martin Wood (34) and captain Matt Avery (29 off 18 balls) accelerated the score to 98 before skipper Simon Browne (4-28) broke the partnership. Despite a cameo from Julian Lockett (31) the Hamworthy innings stuttered to 101-8.

Debutant Jack Sapworth (1-22) making his best captured the important wicket of Avery, receiving praise from his captain for his all round work in the field.

Tom England (68*) and Kieron Womble (46*) produced an unbeaten second wicket stand to see Weymouth home comfortably.

County Division 2 Witchampton (4) 98 lost to Portland Red Triangle (16) 100-8 by 2 wickets

Portland Red Triangle won a low scoring game thanks to an unbeaten ninth wicket stand between father and son Simon (7*) and Matthew Barrett (14*). Needing 20 for victory they batted sensibly to ensure victory with 21 balls to spare.

Joe Adkins (15) had shown maturity above his 16 years earlier to hold the innings together with only Simon Proffitt (11) and Matt Randall (11) also reaching double figures.

Rob Townley, promoted from the seconds, showed what he could do as he took 4-28 as PRT dismissed the hosts for 98. He was well supported by Matt Barrett (2-11 from 9) and Rich Samuel (2-42).

County Division 3 Beaminster (5) 174 lost to Kingston Lacy (20) 178-4 by 6 wickets

DALE Coghlan was the hero for Kingston Lacy with 92 not out to guide his team home by four wickets.

Beaminster got off to a poor start losing

Lewis Keenan without scoring, and despite opener Chris Park (39) and useful contributions from Ali Crawford (24), Simon Kones (26) and Dan Spiller (20) failed to build a substantial toylard were bowled out for 174.

Coghlan dominated Lacy's reply to win the game with 10 balls remaining. Crawford (2-41) bagged a brace, both as a result of smart catches from keeper Leo Gurd.

Hamworthy Rec 2nd (8) 216 lost to Charlton Down (20) 252-7 by 36 runs

CHARLTON Down have made a great start to their Division Three campaign making it two wins from two.

Matt Stevens starred with bat and ball scoring 77 and taking 2-28 and James Pretty was a game changer taking 5-27 and also scoring 32 runs.

Jae Miller (33) and Pretty (32) added 77 in only 13 overs. When Sam Roles (14) and Nick Voss (29) followed soon after with the score on 137-4 in the 27th over, the innings could have gone either way.

However, Matt and Dan Stevens (14) added a match winning partnership of 85 and Javed Gill added 30 more quick runs and leave Charlton Down on 252-7 after 45 overs.

Dan Stevens (2-34) accounted for Cornwall's Over 50s opening batsman Steve Jenkin (2) and Nick Berry (10), before brother Matt (2-28) bowled the dangerous Donkin (32) with the score on 45-3.

The partnership between Gordon Fraser (62) and Tim Martin (24) looked as though the game was tilting towards Hamworthy at 121-3, But Gill (1-41) and James Pretty (5-27) turned the match back Charlton Down's way. Despite Bob Holness (27) and Tom Meaton (13) adding a quickfire 43, Pretty and the returning Matt Stevens ensured the run chase came up 36 runs short.

Dorchester 2nd (20) 155-2 beat Dorset Indian Tigers (4) 154 by 8 wickets

DORCHESTER recorded their first win of the season against a strong Dorset Indian Tigers.

The Tigers were soon in trouble from the nagging accuracy of Mike Peck (2-40) and Matt Porter (2-16 from 7). With young Ollie Osbourne also chipping in with a wicket (1-33), the Tigers were five down for less than 50.

Only Gunaseelan Sithambaram (35) and Tyson Luis (52) showed resistance.

However Shaun Little (3-19) returning from injury, and Joe Power (2-39) also produced excellent spells to dismiss the visitors for 154.

Little (43) and Nick Roe (47) produced a solid base in reply, before Peak (32*) ensured the victory with eight overs to spare.

County Division 4 Abbotsbury (6) 184-5 lost to Wareham (17) 187-2 by 8 wickets

ABBOTSBURY'S disappointing start to the season continued as they were well beaten by Wareham.

Swan's skipper Simon Allen opted to bat first. In the opening overs, Simon Pengelly and Frank Pittman both presented catching chances which were squandered by the Wareham fielders and after these early relievers both batsmen settled into their innings, though with a slow outfield run scoring remained at a modest rate.

However, by the time Pittman (38) fell lbw to Matt Truman in the 25th over a decent platform of 104 had been laid.

Pengelly (98) batted excellently but just missed out on a ton as his off stump was knocked back. With overs running out three wickets fell to Truman (5-39).

Defending 184, the Swans were hoping for early wickets with Grafton Straker (0-35) and Jay Lintern (0-53) leading the attack for the home side.

However, the Wareham openers batsmen Harry Wright and Ashley Hayes batted with composure, with Hayes regularly finding the boundary.

The breakthrough eventually arrived in the 32nd over when Chas Duerdorth (1-29) bowled Wright (55) but Hayes (113) completed a century to bring victory within sight.

Simon Pengelly (1-45) finally accounted for the century but there was to be no further joy for the Swans as Matt Truman (5) and Martin Upshall (12) guided Wareham home for a straightforward win.

Chalke Valley (6) 171-8 lost to Puddletown (19) 216-5 by 45 runs

A fine all round display saw Puddletown secure their second win of the new season in the Wiltshire countryside.

The hosts won the toss and asked Puddletown to bat first, and the visitors' innings got off to a poor start when Tim Orford (2) was run out in the first over.

Adam Barrett then joined Lucas Allen and the pair put on 46 valuable runs before Barrett was bowled by Goodchild. Adam Weir came and went after a brief stay, and Mike Hoffman, together with Allen, took the score to 137 before he was dismissed for a fine 42.

Mike Crabb was next in to join Allen, who was progressing steadily towards his century, and this pair realised 73 runs before Crabb was run out, with Allen on 99, but Dec Chubb came in to ensure that Allen reached three figures, and remain unbeaten on 101 when the innings closed at 216-5.

The home side's innings also got off to a poor start with Mercer bowled by David Morris with just two on the board, and two more wickets fell, with Goodchild, who had opened the innings with Mercer, trying to hold things together.

The opener then fell with the score on 81-4, having made a fine 57, and although Dowling and Bundy made useful contributions of 32 and 23* respectively, the home side's innings petered out on 171-8.

County Division Five Marnhull 2nd (5) 158-8 lost to Martin- stown 2nd (19) 161-2 by 8 wickets

MARTINSTOWN produced an excellent victory against a strong Marnhull side.

Chris Ralph and Barry Lewis put on 70 for the first wicket, and a big total looked likely, but excellent bowling saw them restrict the hosts to 158-8.

Charlie Durrant, a year older looks a great prospect as his medium swing bowling claimed 3-24 from 8 overs, and he was well supported by Matt Rimmer (2-24), Sam Pugh (2-8) and Grant Neven (1-23).

Despite losing Adam Kepple (3) early on, another youngster William Maltby carried his bat for 64 not out and in doing so recorded his first maiden half-century.

He received great support from Finlay Williams (38) and Rimmer (19no) as the visitors won with almost ten overs to spare.

Portland Red Triangle 2nd (20) 190 beat Witchampton 2nd (9) 159 by 31 runs

THIS game could have gone either way, but a superb 92 from Tim Porshaw held the PRT innings together as they set a target of 191.

However, it looked like a lost cause perhaps as Witchampton cruised to 100-1.

But the dismissal of Paul Allaway who was caught and bowled by Nathan Cornish (1-29) and Luke Smith, caught by captain George Linley-Munro off Jack Marsh (1-28), saw the innings unravel.

In stepped Tony Morris with 4-10 from seven overs and with Tom Dalkins nabbing 2-22 they swept home by 31 runs.

County Division Six Bradford Abbas Sports 2nd (3) 69 lost to Symene (18) 143-7 by 74 runs

SYMEENE SIT top Division 6 after their second win of the season, this time easily beating Bradford Abba, although they got off to a bad start with Nick Skyrme (0) and Jamie Dolman (1) both out with the score on 5-2.

It was a superb maiden half-century from George Wyrill (51) that changed the game. He was ably supported by Charlie Parkman (36) and saw Symene reach 143-7.

In reply Bradford Abbas found themselves in trouble as Graham Bartlett (2-6 from 4) and Dan White (2-13) reduced them to 20-4.

Only two batsmen reached double figures and when Parkman (3-2) was thrown the ball he finished them off with a hat trick.

Readers Mid-Wessex League Division One Broadwindsor (8) 140 lost to Cranmore (20) 280 by 140 runs

ONE man destroyed any chance of victory for Broadwindsor as prolific runmaker Mike Pang made them pay for dropping him when on 30 as he went on to plaster the ball all over the field in a magnificent innings of 183.

Despite Mike Runyard taking 4-24 in his eight overs Cranmore amassed 280 all out.

Beaminster could only muster 140 in reply with Ross Baker striking an elegant 67 supported by Adrian Waddington (25).

Second half super show

Marnhull 3 Bridport A 5
Dorset League Division Four

BRIDPORT A produced a second half display which highlighted why they won Dorset Division Four this season when, after making three uncharacteristic first half mistakes, they stormed back to beat Marnhull.

On a small pitch and with the wind at their backs Marnhull took the lead from a poorly defended corner, before Bridport woke and took control. They equalised following a brilliant run and finish from Rhys Hayter who slotted the ball home for the Bees 100th goal of the campaign.

Bridport continued to squander chances and found themselves behind from a rare mistake by keeper Jordon Scadding who failed to hold a free kick. They then conceded a third through poor marking.

But Bridport produced a terrific second half display with Rhys Hughes-Williams up front and Josh Hunter adding bite in the middle alongside Sam Handyside, they took complete control.

Hunter, turning on the edge of the box, fired home a powerful shot home before James Legg equalised.

Brandon Scadding rocked the crossbar before finding the net to give Bridport the lead and Hunter added his 24th of the season in just eight games.

Lyme Regis Sailing

Full sails enjoyed

A GOOD turnout of 28 boats took to the water to make the most of the long-awaited ideal conditions on Sunday morning.

A steady SW breeze, F3 for the first race of the Early Summer Series, had increased to F5 with steep, deeper waves by the third, giving changing conditions over the three different courses.

Race officer Simon Clark, a keen sailor and kite surfer, was kept busy with three classes to start and commented on the perseverance of the five young Optimist competitors, two of whom finished all three of their races even as the seas built.

Consistent overall among the dinghies were top helms Jon Turner and Chris Turner, while five chose not to continue after one race and two more returned to shore before the third. Phantoms and Merlins are leading the series, with K1s in contention.

Among the three Cruisers that competed Rob and Margaret Wiscombe gained two first places. The safety boat, helmed by Findlay Fuller, was kept occupied, as was the OppieRib. Meanwhile, Fraser Earle and Simon Boyle took Rescue 1 to Beer to support the safety team at Beer SC at their Laser Masters Open meeting.

Racing continues on Wednesday evenings as well as Sundays, with separate series and training three times each week.

Results Early Spring Series (after three races) 1st Jon Turner & Katie Frost, Merlin (2,2,1), 2nd Chris Turner, Phantom (1,4,2), 3rd Mike & Jane Calvert, Merlin (6,1,4), 4th Hugh Duncan, K1 (3,8,6)

No change at the top for Aces and Robbers

IT was the same again at the top of both men's and ladies Bridport & District Darts League this season's as both defending champions retained their titles.

With Tender Trap having disbanded after Anchor Aces broke their 10 year reign last year, The Salwayash-based team once again took the Ladies Division One title by eight points from Arrows Awry, together with the Ladies Four Cup, Ladies Charles Cup, Ladies Beer Cup, whilst their captain Heather Scadding won the Ladies' Highest Game Shot with a 141 finish.

Meanwhile, Rob's Robbers, the team from the Nag's Head, Lyme Regis, were unbeaten as they ran away with the Men's Division One title by nine points from Well Hung Clocks.

The Robbers also took the Men's Bartlett Cup and the Men's Ann Cup, whilst Terry Prowse won two single awards as well as the Men's Div 1/2 Pairs Cup with teammate Matt Yarrow.

They all received their awards at the league's Annual Presentation night held at Freshwater Beach Holiday Park last Friday attended by more than 200 people, who were treated to a wonderful exhibition by BDO World No 2 Scott Mitchell who also presented some of the trophies.

leg games of 701 against the individual league champions, showing a variety of ways to finish as he beat them all.

Among the individual award winners was Becky Dedman from Fleet Club, who became the first lady to ever to win the Most 171 trophy.

The evening was compered by chairman Reg Pitcher and Geoff Hoskins. This year's recipient of the Chairman's Trophy was Barry Gall who has given over 30 years sterling service as treasurer.

The Sandy Pitcher Trophy for the Captain of the Year, presented by the donor who is the league secretary, went to Heather Scadding of Anchors Aces, for her great help.

There were also four special awards; to Liz Vowles, Clive Trenchard and George Lessey who have all played over 700 single games since records began in 1982-83. The other was from the committee to Sandy Pitcher who has held the post of League secretary for over 30 years.

The awards were also the first attended by Angie Samways as the new league President. She has taken over the role from her husband Cliff Samways who decided to stand down after 61 years in the role.

Angie confirmed that whilst Cliff was unable to attend, he congratulated the league another successful season and wished them well for the coming year.

She also confirmed that the Samways family would be pleased to sponsor the league once again.

The awards finished with the presentation of bouquets to Angie Samways, Sandy Pitcher and assistant league secretary Elaine Knight for all their hard work.

"Scotty Dog" Mitchell thanked the league for their invitation, and praised the hard work of the committee and said it is still his favourite awards event to visit.

The Dorset-born darts champion, who lives in Bransgore, stated his love and loyalty for the county and was proud and honoured to represent them.

Lyme Golf

Medal for boss Moss

WITH some challenging pin positions it required some good golf to break par in the May Medal.

The top three in Division One did as Geoff Moss started off his round in sparkling form as after five holes his 12 handicap was being severely threatened as he was two under gross. In the end his nett 68 was the best score of the day.

Craig McGown also started very well with a smattering of birdies including one on the stroke index one and had to settle for second place with nett 69 while scratch handicapper Scott Love rallied well at the end to come in with an under par 70.

Martin Dixon held his nerve as he recorded a superb nett two under par 69 to clinch top spot, the only player to better par in Division two.

Owen Bosence and Simon Leech had a fierce battle for second place but Bosence's better back nine just took silver.

The seniors played their May Medal in similarly testing conditions with Division One belonging to Robert Laverton as his three nett birdies on the front nine, and steady play secured the best score of the day with 39 points.

John Coley birdied two of the par fives in each nine scoring a brilliant 37 points for second while Geoff Richmond had a consistent round to record third with 36 points.

Division Two was very competitive as David Hay steadied himself for two excellent halves and won with 38 points.

Andrew Thomas had a good front nine which ensured he broke nett par to take second spot from Alan Woodbridge who finished strongly and scored 36 points.

Meanwhile, Lyme Regis hosted the Dorset Ladies Seniors' Championship and several members took part, and the ladies also staged an open competition, both were very well supported as everyone enjoyed a testing course in excellent conditions.

INSIDE: Local sport round-up

Browne delighted at Blues opportunity

SIMON Browne whilst delighted at being named as the new Portland United manager is also aware of the tough task he has ahead to consolidate the club's position after winning the Wessex Premier League last season.

It was a coincidence that the former Weymouth player who grew up on Portland, was on the Bill with his family on Sunday when he received the news from Blues chairman Robin Satherley.

Talking to View Sport he said: "It was a nice call to get and I was glad to accept the job, and now the hard work begins."

Although he has previous managerial experience with Hamworthy United and Wimborne Town, both were struggling at the time of his appointment, but he arrives at Grove Corner following Gary Bailey's decision to stand down, on the back of the Blues most successful season in their history.

"It's a different scenario to the other jobs where they were down in the bottom reaches of the league, struggling financially and with points, so to come into a team that have just won their league is a slightly different set of circumstances which means there is a fair bit of work to do."

"The flip side is you go into an unsuccessful side with a plan how to turn things around to improve the situation, but obviously I don't have to do that much. 'If it ain't broke, don't fix it', kind of thing."

"I don't envisage tinkering too much, but obviously I need to have conversations with the current staff and players and see what their take is on it."

Asked what reaction the players might have to staying in the Wessex league rather than looking for promotion, the new Blues boss said: "I was in this position with Wimborne when because of circumstances I brought in three or four players from the Wessex League who were more than capable of holding their own at a higher level, and I guess it is the result of Portland being victims of their own success."

"However I think the job is all about consolidating the club's position in the Wessex League for a while. There are plans off the pitch to improve the facilities so that if and when the club might feel it is right to make the step up they are prepared."

"Being a local lad I don't want to see the club yo-yoing between leagues, you want to establish yourself first as a good, solid Wessex League team. There are many examples of those that have tried and failed without the right circumstances behind them."

"There a lot of work getting things right off the pitch both financially and to the infrastructure, and although it is one of the best in the Wessex and indeed better than some in the Southern League S&W, there are certain criteria that need to be met."

Regarding on the field Browne said: "What I want to do is repeat some of the success from last year but that's not an easy job."

"Having lived on the island for 24 years I know the club is a big part of the community, you only have to look at the crowds they attract, and I think that's what they want to maintain rather than risking money chasing promotion which they might not be able to sustain, and I'm looking forward to help achieve that."
